WELCOME TO Sanitas 2018!

Dear colleagues,

Today, when medicine and science advance daily, we live in a time of eradication of deadly diseases, high level of healthcare and the rise of life expectancy. However, ecological, climate and sociological factors have played their role in once again facing us with problems we thought were solved: reemerging infective disease, antibiotic resistance and multifactorial chronic diseases. Health protection does not only include prophylactic and therapeutic action by professionals, it also includes education and knowledge exchange between colleagues and professionals in fields of biomedicine, health and ecology to improve our own expertise and the society in which we live in.

I firmly believe that this Congress contributes to the global goal of health promotion, which is why I invite you who deal with scientific research work to join us on April 13 and 14, 2018 in Rijeka! We have prepared two days of rich scientific programme including plenary lectures, workshops and student sessions!

Welcome to Rijeka and Sanitas 2018!

Maša Lovrović

President of Sanitas 2018

REGISTRATION AND ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

You can register through an on-line form found on our web or Facebook page, bearing in mind that active participants should send their abstracts by e-mail at: sanitas@foss.hr by no later than 16th March 2018, after which they will be notified of acceptance.

Your participation at Sanitas 2018 can be active or passive. Active participants can present the results of their research as an oral or poster presentation.

Abstracts should be written in Croatian, with a maximum of 300 words, containing affiliate data and contact details of the first author. Abstract must also be structured so that it includes an introduction, goal, methods, results and a conclusion. Abbreviations should be preceded by the full name of the term, when first mentioned. In the end, it is necessary to specify the keywords that reflect the meaning of the abstract. It is not allowed to use tables and diagrams, or references, in the abstract. In case you are not from a Croatian-speaking region, abstract can be written in English or in one of the languages of the region (e.g. Serbian, Slovenian), in which case the Editors of Abstract Book and the Scientific Committee reserve the right to translate your abstract. The Scientific Committee will review all submitted abstracts and will notify the authors of acceptance (or possible rejection) of their paper within 15 days of registration deadline.

Oral presentations should not be longer than 10 minutes. The Scientific Committee suggests that all text displayed on Microsoft PowerPoint presentations is translated into English (for easier understanding of all participants in the Congress), while presentations can be held in one of the languages of the region (the native language of the presenter). The sizes of poster presentations should not be larger than 120(150) x 90 cm. Poster authors will present their paper in a special section for poster presentations.

All forms of presentation should follow the structured form of the paper.

The official languages of Sanitas 2018 are English and languages of the region (without simultaneous translation).

Awards

This year the Organizing and Scientific Committees will give a special award for:

- Best student oral presentation
- Best student poster

In evaluation of oral presentations, the Committee will be guided by the following criteria: quality of content, the manner of presenting the topic and managing to respond to questions. In evaluation of the posters, the Committee will be guided by the following criteria: organization of the material, the content and quality of the images and the written text, and the manner of presenting the topic.
